Katanga Officials Deny Rumors On Lumumba Escape

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katanga Province officials today flatly denied rumors they concocted a story that ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba escaped from jail, so they could cover his death at the hands of his political foes.

Swiss Avalanche Kills 10 Persons

Bodies of 9 Pupils, Teacher Recovered

LENZERHEIDE, Switzerland (AP)—Swiss Alpinists dug from the snow today the body of a little blonde girl, the last of nine Swiss school children who died with their teacher in an avalanche on Scalottas Mountain Friday.

Her name was Dorete Fino, 14. She and the other youngsters climbed up a steep and dangerous slope in the face of avalanche warnings and met with disaster. The slide killed six girls, three boys and a young male teacher. One boy and a girl were seriously injured. Six uninjured survivors remained in deep shock today.

A team of 60 rescuers—soldiers, guides and volunteers—dug all night on Scalottas mountain for the girl, given up for dead. Bodies of nine others have been recovered.

The roar of the tumbling ice and snow apparently was unheard Friday in the valley below the southern slope of the 7,600-foot mountain. But others saw the huge avalanche from afar, and the biggest rescue operation here in a generation began within the hour. There were 27 teenagers and three teachers on a skiing vacation from a high school in Glarus. The group started up the wooded face of Scalottas in brilliant sunshine on the last day of their two-week holiday. They were not on the regular ski trail.

The skiers were crossing a steep expanse, marked with danger signs and avoided by local guides, when the avalanche swept down and engulfed them.

Some were pulled out alive, but one boy flown down the valley by helicopter with a broken back died in front of a doctor's home.

Two boys were critically hurt. A woman teacher and several others were clear of the avalanche and unharmed but they suffered shock.

The Swiss radio had broadcast an avalanche warning for all areas higher than 4,500 feet about the time the ski party set out.

JFK Flies To Retreat For Weekend

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy leaves Washington this afternoon to spend the weekend in a large French-style estate in the snow-covered Virginia countryside.

This weekend of relaxation at Glen Ora, the new presidential retreat, will be the first away from the White House for Kennedy since taking office Jan. 20.

At the estate, situated on an unpeopled rural lane in Loudoun County's hunt country, Kennedy will join his wife and Caroline, their 3-year-old daughter, who flew to Glen Ora from Washington Friday in a Marine Corps helicopter.

Kennedy also will use a helicopter to reach Glen Ora, which is 45 miles west of Washington. The Kennedys' son, 11-week-old John Jr., is remaining at the White House.

Residents of Middleburg will be anxious to see what changes in their quiet lives will be wrought by the Kennedys' taking up residence among them. Gettysburg, Pa., the main weekend retreat of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, already had been a tourist attraction because of its Civil War battlefield. But Middleburg has had a history of seclusion until now.

for the missing Lumumba had found a car he and two political associates used to escape from a farmhouse prison at Mutshatsa, 220 miles west of Elisabethville, late Thursday night.

Some Western observers in the Congo said they suspect Lumumba is dead or that his escape was engineered so he could be shot while trying to escape.

Denies Organizing Escape
The Katanga government, taking note of these rumors, said in a communique: "The Katanga government denies it organized the escape. It appears his (Lumumba's) escape was made possible by some fault or intervention by his guards, and this will be subject to inquiry."

The communique said the car, a black Ford sedan found about 20 miles north of Kasaji where Lumumba was imprisoned, was identified as the automobile he and his companions seized after overpowering their guards.

Western observers fear that, dead or alive, Lumumba presents the Congo with its greatest threat of all-out civil war. His supporters control about one-third of the Congo, and in the past his fiery oratory has been capable of whipping them to a frenzy.

If Lumumba is dead, observers said, his supporters in Oriental and Kivu provinces almost certainly would embark on a path of vengeance, possibly against the white population.

May Touch Off Conflict
If he is alive, they said, he will be able to assume active leadership of his followers and touch off an all-out major civil war.

The Katanga government communique said the escape car which searchers found "was started by unscrewing the ignition lock and joining the ignition wires to gether."

"There was no sign that the occupants of car (found damaged on the road) had been hurt in movements after leaving the damaged car had been obliterated by rain and people passing the spot afterwards."

The feeling here that Lumumba was already dead was strengthened among observers.

President Moise Tshombe of Katanga has shown no inclination to take personal immediate action about the case, or even to comment on it.

Newsman asked a government spokesman to get some sort of reaction from Tshombe, but they were told "the president is busy with the visit of President Yulu of the Republic of Congo (French) and doesn't feel Lumumba's escape justifies comments. It is not important enough."

In denying it had engineered the escape, the Katanga government said, "The U.N. Security Council is meeting at present to discuss the Congo situation, and it would be an inopportune time for any escape of Lumumba to be manufactured."

This announcement came as demands mounted in the United Nations for an investigation of the reported escape.

Tax Funds Assist City, School Board

An advance of real estate monies yesterday helped both the city of Salem and the Board of Education. County Auditor Kenneth Bell distributed $16,220 to the city, providing sufficient funds to meet the city payroll Wednesday, and advanced $113,950 to the school district.

It will enable the school board to save interest on borrowed money. Of the total, $89,230 goes into the general fund, the balance into the school bond retirement fund.

Property Valuations Of Counties Reported

Columbiana County has a total property value of $198,734,995 and Mahoning County $289,934,509, according to county auditors' reports submitted to State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

In all of Ohio the valuation of all real estate, public utilities and tangible personal property on which taxes were levied and collected in 1960 was almost $27.4 billion, Rhodes said. This represented a $1.3 billion gain over the preceding year.

Goldberg Charts Permanent Increase In Jobless Benefits

ARRESTED AFTER GUNFIGHT — Thomas W. Sargent, 29, and his 20-year-old wife, Brenda Ann, both of Wheeling, Ill., are shown in back seat of squad car after they were involved in a running gun battle with Memphis, Tenn., police. The couple commandeered a car near their motel and took the four occupants as hostages. During a high speed chase with police, Sargent lost control and the auto crashed into a ditch killing one of the women hostages.

Courthouse Mess Complicated

It's Not Who's Got The Jobs -- Who Gets Paid?

It isn't so much a question of who holds the positions as who will get paid for a group of Columbiana County persons vying for the same Courthouse jobs, as the result of action by the State Department of Personnel Friday.

The issue revolves about the uncertain status of the discharged employees under Civil Service. The department yesterday refused to approve payment for the employees recently hired by the Board of Commissioners, asserting they were under classified service. The group of workers discharged by the Republican-controlled board has been reporting for work as usual, also without pay.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, in reply to a request by the county commissioners last month advanced the opinion that the employees released from their jobs were not covered by Civil Service provisions.

The lone Democratic Commissioner, Frank Wilson of Wellsville, asserted they were and served warning that he would carry on a fight to reinstate them for the next two years.

The other two commissioners, whose majority vote resulted in the discharge of the employees, are Galen Greenisen of Salem and Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine, Republicans.

Persons affected by the job dispute are:

Mrs. Esther Turk of Signal, photostat operator; Mrs. Edna Helman of Lisbon, microfilm operator; Mrs. Alma Huffman of East Palestine, switch board operator; and Mrs. Esther DeTemple of Lisbon, clerk of the dog license department, hired this year by the commissioners.

McElroy Rules Against Annual Photos Payment

LISBON — Ohio Attorney General Mark McElroy has ruled that pictures taken of the county school superintendent and elementary and high school consultants for the annual publication at Fairfield-Waterford High School cannot be paid with county school board funds.

About a year ago Supt. James L. McBride, Lorin Ruff and Mrs. Marilyn Solak had their pictures taken for the annual at a cost of $44.85. The county board authorized the payment of the voucher, but County Auditor Kenneth Bell refused to pay it.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw was requested to get the attorney general's opinion which was received Friday.

The meeting is open to the public.

The commission's target date for the first rough draft of a proposed charter for the city of Salem is June 5.

Six Common Market Nations Defer Action

Plan Commission In Paris May 19 To Draft Proposals

PARIS (AP)—Western Europe's six Common Market nations today put off until another "little summit" meeting in May any concrete proposals for giving their economic alliance a political framework.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer left the current meeting unexpectedly. His departure caught French officials by surprise. But Adenauer was in good humor on his return to Bonn and told reporters "I am very happy over what has been achieved in Paris."

Accompanied By Brentano
Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano accompanied him.

In a communique that bore signs of delicate diplomatic surgery, the government chiefs agreed to set up a commission in Paris to prepare proposals for a May 19 session in Bonn.

The communique opened the door to other powers—particularly Britain—in any future Common Market developments, reportedly at the insistence of Dutch Premier Jan de Quay.

It avoided any suggestion that final decisions or goals had been set up.

The communique offered little comfort for French President Charles de Gaulle's idea of a European confederation or Adenauer's even stronger idea of deeper integration.

Agree On Initial Steps

It appeared the government leaders were able to agree only on some initial cautious steps toward the European unity they all espouse in principle.

"The six governments are desirous of seeking, in the spirit of good will and friendship," the communique said, "all agreements susceptible of maintaining and developing exchanges with other European countries, in particular with Great Britain, as well as with the other countries of the world. They will strive in the same spirit to find a solution to the problems which result from the existence of two economic groupings in Europe."

Soviets Held Pursuing Policy Of Restraint

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today its Soviet sources in Moscow are picturing the Soviet Union as agreeable to pursuing a policy of restraint while the Kennedy administration formulates its foreign policy.

The sources say patience in the Soviet capital depends on the extent to which the United States avoids provocative criticism of the Soviet Union and overt acts in sensitive areas of the world.

There no longer is any evidence in Moscow that Soviet officials are trying to hurry the Kennedy administration into negotiations, the Times said, apparently because they now realize this cannot be done.

Neither is it regarded likely, the Times added, that Premier Khrushchev will press for an early meeting with President Kennedy by coming to New York for a March meeting of the U.N. General Assembly.

But Moscow expects Washington to take the initiative within a reasonable time to assure progress toward relaxing East-West tensions, the Times said.

A question being raised, the Times said, is how long the present atmosphere of relatively cordial relations can persist in the absence of any firm agreements.

The resumption on March 21 of the Geneva conference on nuclear test bans might provide an opportunity for initiating such agreements, the Times said.

Soviets Seethe Over Plane Incident

France Hopes Apology Will Calm Red Tempers

PARIS (AP)—France hoped today its formal expression of regrets would calm Soviet tempers over a French jet fighter that fired tracer shots across the nose of a plane carrying Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev.

France's charge d'affaires in Moscow, Jean de la Grandville, visited the Soviet Foreign Ministry Friday night to deliver an apology — apparently ordered by President Charles de Gaulle himself—for the interception off Algeria's Mediterranean coast Thursday.

In Moscow today, there was no outward indication Soviet officials would make a great affair of the incident despite almost unprecedented bitter reaction from the Soviet man-on-the-street.

The Soviet Communist party official newspaper Pravda called the interception "a regrettable incident."

When the news first reached Moscow, Soviet citizens displayed anger greater even than that shown during the American U2 spy plane incident or the landing of U.S. Marines in Lebanon.

The French Foreign Ministry said De la Grandville at his own request met with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko for a half-hour and promised a full investigation.

Reports received so far are incomplete, the French said, but De la Grandville "expressed, here and now, in any case, the sincere regrets of the French government."

The French said they have determined, however, that the Soviet pilot strayed from his flight plan and veered southward into France's "zone of responsibility."

The Soviet Embassy in Rabat, Morocco, where Brezhnev's four-engine Ilyushin 18 landed unharmed shortly after the incident, denied the Soviet pilot strayed from his previously stated line of flight.

The plane was on course, the Soviets said, when three two-jet French Vulture fighters appeared and one fired two bursts of tracer bullets.

Two drivers were arrested and considerable property damage caused in separate accidents on area highways Friday.

Lawrence B. Gardner, 57, of RD 4, Lisbon, was cited for driving while under the influence of alcohol after he drove his truck off Rt. 644 and rolled over, a mile and a half north of Saineville at 5:10 p.m.

The State Patrol said Gardner went left of center near the crest of a hill and went off the left side of the highway.

Franklin D. Stone, 21, of Amsterdam, was cited for reckless operation after a one-car accident at 5 p.m. on Rt. 164, one mile south of Saineville near the Jefferson County line.

The Patrol said Stone failed to negotiate a curve and tore up 90 feet of guard rail. His 1960 car was damaged extensively.

Says Level of Compensation Below Need

Labor Secretary Talks With Reuther, Key Industry Men

DETROIT (AP)—Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg today charted a permanent increase in unemployment compensation benefits in addition to the $1.2 billion emergency idle aid plan already advanced by President Kennedy.

"We are convinced the general level of unemployment compensation benefits has fallen behind the times—it has to be upgraded," Goldberg said in a visit to this economically hard hit area.

The labor secretary conferred with business, labor and political leaders in a stopover on his five-state tour of unemployment areas to drum up support for the Kennedy program.

Details To Be Worked Out

Goldberg said details have yet to be worked out on Kennedy's plan for permanent expansion of the unemployment compensation program. But he indicated federal legislation will be sought to boost benefits that up to now have been fixed by the individual states.

Gov. John B. Swainson, with whom Goldberg conferred, said Friday night that the benefit level in Michigan should be increased to make up two-thirds of a worker's regular pay.

In Michigan, which has a statewide idle rate of 11.2 per cent of the work force, the labor secretary talked with Walter Reuther, head of the Auto Workers Union, and with key figures in all the major automotive companies.

The industry is idling at partial productive capacity with over a million cars in the hands of dealers.

Might Include Tax Cut

Goldberg said that if proposals already recommended by the Kennedy administration don't result in a springtime upturn in the economy the administration will be ready with a more far-reaching program. This could include tax revisions, he said.

Reuther said while he admired the leadership Kennedy has given the country he thought Kennedy's program does not go far enough.

The auto union leader said Kennedy should plug for a specific five per cent annual growth increase in the nation's economy and should be armed with power to invoke a tax cut in the event economic conditions deteriorate further.

Goldberg said the nation is 1-ready in a full-fledged recession and "if we don't take proper action soon we'll be in a real depression."

The labor secretary has been touring depressed areas in Illinois, Indiana and now Michigan and planned to go later today to Columbus, Ohio, and Pittsburgh.

At each stop he interviews idled workers and their families, and confers with political, business and labor leaders.

Homes Sought In County for Aged

LISBON — Miss Agnes Lustig, home finder for the Ohio Department of Public Welfare, was in Columbiana County Thursday, seeking homes for persons 60 years of age and older.

It is part of the state's plan to place aging persons in private homes where they may be accepted as members of the family. The effort is directly associated with the governor's health program to clear mental hospitals of those who do not belong there. Miss Lustig said. A full scale home-finding program began in January.

Twelve persons have been placed in Columbiana County.

Miss Lustig is working through the Aid for the Aged office on East Washington St. and will return to the county periodically.

The Aid for the Aged office already has a list of persons who have offered homes, and it is hoped the number will grow as the public becomes aware of the state's pioneering effort in this field.

Those who may be interested and have rooms available should write Miss Lustig at Box 35, Thompson, Ohio, including directions to the homes and telephone numbers. Miss Lustig is available for talks to clubs and other groups.

They authorized the attendance of several local officials to state meetings and paid the expenses of Mrs. Wanda Wilson, employee in the auditor's office who attended a personal tax meeting in Canton last Wednesday.

The next meeting of the commissioners will be Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday, their regular meeting date, is a legal holiday and the Courthouse will be closed.

Confident Living

By Dr. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

God's Power In Human Experience

After a recent meeting of the New York Rotary Club, a man came up to me and asked which way I was going. He said he would like to go with me a few blocks. I thought he must have a problem of some sort but I certainly guessed wrong. As we walked along I became aware that here was a man who was deeply, vibrantly happy.

"I want to tell you," he said, "that the positive way of life you have been teaching really works. Do you yourself know how well it works?"

"I wouldn't be so dishonest as to teach it if I weren't certain it would work," I replied.

"Well," he asserted, "you just have no idea how well it has worked for me!"

Dr. Peale

I knew then that he had a story. It seems this man had been having a very hard time of it. Everything seemed to be going wrong, especially in his job. He kept running into stone walls and road blocks, as he put it. He was completely at a loss what to do about it. He was frustrated and discouraged and, he emphasized, "I don't mean maybe."

AT THIS POINT he read something of mine in which was advanced the idea of taking God as your partner — which simply means putting your life in God's hands and letting Him change you and get you in harmony with His purposes, so that His power may be with you, helping you in your thinking and living.

He took this article to his office and sat there alone rereading it and "doing some basic thinking." He thought: "I've tried everything else — so might as well try this."

Bowing his head he prayed, saying, "Lord, I can't handle my situation. I don't seem to be getting the right ideas. I'm licked. My business is going broke. I want to take you as my partner. I haven't anything to offer you except myself and the opportunity to help me make something of myself and clean up the mess I'm in. Please be my partner. I need a partnership that will work. I don't really understand how. And I may as well tell you frankly, Lord, I have my doubts about it. But I am ready to do anything you tell me and give this partnership a try for I'm just about sunk."

As he told me this I asked him, "Did you really say all that in your prayer?"

"Yes, that is what I said."

"What happened then?"

"WELL," HE WENT ON, "after I got through praying I sat there in my chair and nothing happened. And I thought to myself, 'Well, this is just one of those things.' But then I began to feel real peaceful and easy. Presently I decided to go out and take a walk. I don't know why; it just seemed to be the next thing to do. I walked about a mile and then turned around, thinking I had better get back to the office."

"And on my way back, as I came to a certain street corner, I suddenly stopped and just stood there at the curb, for into my mind popped an idea that had not occurred to me before, an idea for solving my main problem. I do not know where it came from. It was right out of the blue."

"I went back to my office and put that idea into action and things began to click one after another and it wasn't long until the whole situation began to look up."

"I continued putting myself each day completely in God's hands. Oh, I had some hard days — don't think I didn't. There still were difficulties to deal with — plenty of them. But I was making progress from day to day and I felt very different. When I became different everything became different, so to speak."

"And I'll tell you what I'm doing now. I am going through the New Testament making a list of all the things Jesus tells us to do. And I am trying to do them. For example, I have quit hating anybody. Jesus says to get right with people you've been on the outs with; I have been doing that. He says to have faith; I have been doing that. I can only say that I have never been so happy," he concluded, "and life has never been so exciting."

THIS MAN SURELY had something. He was alive — he had an up-beat spirit. There is a power in human experience stronger than human power and stronger even than the mightiest physical force. It is God's power. Did you think science has explained God's power away? On the contrary: the more deeply scientists examine the wonders of the universe, the more they see on every hand mysterious signs of a Divine Intelligence governing all things. Find out what men like Selman A. Waksman or Robert Millikan or Werner von Braun — for example — have to say about God.

The giants of American history were men who had a strong sense of God's influence in shaping human destinies. Abraham Lincoln, the commemoration of whose greatness makes the 12th of February a special day in the calendar, said once, "I have been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had nowhere else to go. My own wisdom, and that of all about me, seemed insufficient for the day."

ARE YOU FACED WITH problems you cannot seem to solve? Are you discouraged and distressed? Well, here is your answer to that problem: put yourself in God's hands; ask Him to help you; then believe that He can and will. Just believe. That's the secret.

That humble act of faith is the way to new beginnings — provided you start living out God's teachings. Why live on your own inadequate strength when you can have God's power.

Oberammergau Play Films To Be Shown

Rev. Milton Coleman, a missionary to India, will be in charge of a special service Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the Southeast Friends Church.

He will show pictures of the Passion Play of Oberammergau, Germany. The village of Oberammergau faced death from the black plague many years ago, and the people made a covenant with God to give such a Passion Play every 10 years, if they would be spared from such a death. They were spared and since 1634 they have given the play. Only the peasants of the village take part in the performance.

The Rev. Mr. Coleman witnessed the play while on his return from the mission field. He now has the official pictures of the performance as authorized by the Passion Play committee. There are 34 slides with a taped narration. The public is invited to attend.

... And So Time Passed

It was a gray day early in January when an elderly man came in to ask the editor to look at a manuscript: "I Visit the Lincoln Memorial."

The writing was one of those labors of love that Americans have been performing for Abraham Lincoln down through the years. The material was well organized. It was a heartfelt tribute to a great American by one of millions whose hearts have been stirred by Lincoln's rise to greatness from circumstances humbler than their own.

AFTER RECITING some statistics about the Lincoln Memorial, itself, Lincoln's presidency and the circumstances of his administration, the writer said this:

"And so time passed. The tall frame became more gaunt and bent, the lines in the melancholy features more prominent and deeper from anxiety and care; more in conformity to the face we, today, know and love. In the march of time, the greatness of this man became manifest, scorn and derision changing to respect and admiration. His many acts of kindness in mitigation, sometimes in absolute pardon, of military offenses, his leniency toward those in rebellion against the Union — harshly criticized by some — endeared him to the majority of the people who hailed him as the savior of the Union and of our national honor."

The manuscript was kept so this passage could be quoted on the anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birthday. Its writer had no pride of authorship. He wanted only to pay tribute to Abraham Lincoln.

LAST SPRING, the editor had revisited the Lincoln Memorial. It was a beautiful April day. Hundreds of school children were on the steps of the memorial. Dozens were in the rotunda.

They and all the adults who came and went had the same reaction when they looked at the towering figure of Abraham Lincoln. They were silent. They stood in reverence before the great statue by Daniel Chester French.

No one standing there and watching this happen can help but believe here is the proof of what America is — a land where Abraham Lincoln is the most revered of all American leaders.

He saved the Union by skill and determination. By love, he saved America.

When All the Rookies Are Stars

There is a strong similarity between something now occurring in Washington and something soon to occur in baseball training camps.

The new men of the Kennedy administration are trying out for the old positions. All of them are rabbits on the base paths, gazelles in the infield and murderers at the plate.

Watching them, even the grizzled skeptics of the Washington press corps, cheering for their own youth and shredded hopes, don't see how the promising newcomers can miss.

From John F. Kennedy, the pick of the crop, right down the bottom of the list, this looks like the greatest squad that ever played pepper-ball with the national destiny—and it undoubtedly is.

NEVERTHELESS, it's important to remember what happens at the baseball training camps. Not all the spring wonders are destined to be in the starting lineup in August. Something always happens in the meantime.

One day the murderers are transformed into rabbits at the plate and the rabbits on the base paths look like murderers. The gazelles turn out to have too many left feet. The skeptics of the press corps, more grizzled than ever by this time, explain that the kids lost some of their sharp competitive edge after the training season. They were playing over their heads and now are learning their trade the hard way at some outpost in the minors.

Russia Holds Satellite Edge

The space age began on Oct. 4, 1957, when the Russians lobbed 184 pounds into orbit around the earth — Sputnik I.

Sputnik II, a month later, weighed more than half a ton and carried a dog. That was the one which really impressed physicists, because they had no idea then and almost no idea now what fuel the Russians use to develop so much thrust.

The latest Russian space ship checks out at seven tons, against the half-ton objects the United States has been orbiting. The United States never has come close to Russian accomplishments. Its heaviest object has been only a fraction of the weight of Russian objects.

Asinine Proposal

Our downstate senator, Arthur Blake, has introduced a bill in the Ohio General Assembly to increase the legal limit on the length of trailers used to transport motor vehicles.

We were always under the impression that truck lengths were sufficient, especially when you're trying to pass one on a highway.

It looks like another one of the Martins Ferry Democrat's asinine proposals. A week ago he introduced a bill to make it easier for tavern owners to get past the law on liquor permit violations by paying a fine instead of having their license suspended.

Once Over

Having flubbed job that should be right up the alley for the U.S., the sale of country's greatest product, freedom, has been put into the hands of a man who by training, experience, ability and prestige looks competent to get beyond first base. Ed Murrow will have Uncle Sam as new sponsor, selling Yankee Doodle's Peerless Products. (Compared to his usual TV income he will be working for cigarette money. But since he is a chain smoker, that ain't bad.)

All through the years Russia has made our agency look like an apprentice publicity outfit, giving a costly demonstration of merry-go-round techniques, nonstop huddles, flitgins, bottlenecks and excessive coffee breaks.

It has seemed to prove a nation which could sell pizza pie, beer or cakemix everywhere was wholly unable to sell the American story, one of the most inspiring in human history.

Job has called for wallop, top ability, one-man direction, nose for news, a sense of showmanship and a "name brand" in air-wave sales talks. Too many men have been running in all directions.

Agency has projected impression that glorious record of Uncle Sam could be put across largely through Tin Pan Alley song writers, entertainers, air-wave lectures, jazz recordings and daily totals on number of autos, electric iceboxes and goose-feather mattresses owned by Americans.

Murrow can switch program from "Person to Person" to "Wallop to Wallop" or "Bull's-eye to Bull's-eye" show. Russian caught listening can always say "I thought it was one of those interviews with a celebrity."

Murrow gives up income of $200,000 a year to do the job for $21,000. This should keep him sore enough at the Communist world to shoot the works. Out of $179,000 can make anybody fighting mad. Up and at 'em, Edward!

HOW TO BREAK UP A Washington Cabinet meeting: Open door and yell "Hold 'em, Yale."

Russian youth broke world record by jumping 7 feet 4½ inches. (Shucks, America could beat it but is jumping for defense only.)

Overhead in the soapbox zone. "Let's try to overthrow a government. All we need is a luxury liner of the right size and with enough comforts."

Marriage License Bureau clerks are on a five-day week in New York. Cupid will have to take weekends off like everybody else. Unless it wants to picket license bureau with banners "Unfair to Lovebirds."

Yale gets a million-dollar bequest to spur better English. Language there, since all those appointments of Harvard men to run Washington, hasn't been of the best.

LINCOLN, on problems of our time:

DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT

I go for all sharing the privileges of government who assist in bearing its burdens.

DEFENSE

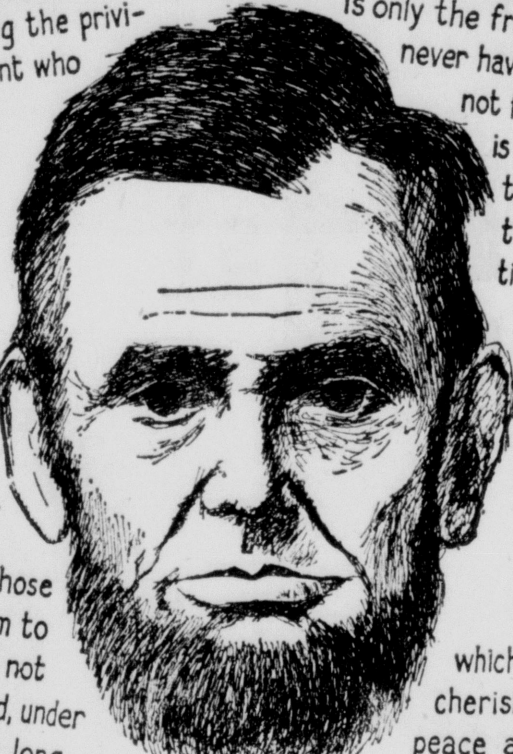

I think the necessity of being ready increases—Look to it.

CIVIL RIGHTS

Those who deny freedom to others deserve it not for themselves, and, under a just God, cannot long retain it.

FREEDOM

What constitutes the bulwark of our own liberty and independence? It is not our frowning battlements, our bristling seacoasts, our army and our navy. These are not our reliance against tyranny. All of those may be turned against us without making us weaker in the struggle. Our reliance is in the love of liberty which God has planted in us. Our defense is in the spirit which prized liberty as the heritage of all men, in all lands, everywhere.

LABOR & MANAGEMENT

Capital is only the fruit of labor, and could never have existed if labor had not first existed. Labor is the superior of capital and deserves much the higher consideration. Capital has its rights, which are as worthy of protection as any other rights.

PEACE

...to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves, and with all nations.

Rayburn's Big Gamble

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The packing of the Rules Committee, so narrowly voted, may well have ominous and far-reaching results. And no one should know that better than the venerable speaker himself.

This action of the House in elevating the speaker to a position of almost dictatorial power recalls the life and times of another speaker in another day, Joseph Gurney Cannon.

The tenures of Cannon and Rayburn laid end to end encompass 88 years of the life of the Republic—four years more than half.

Cannon first entered the House in 1873 and, with occasional missed terms, served until the 1920s. By the time he retired, laden with years, Rayburn had been there six terms.

They knew and respected each other. And Rayburn must know, better than any of the younger generation, the perils that beset a speaker who, as Cannon was called, becomes a "czar."

Before March, 1910, Cannon had been speaker of the House and also chairman of the Rules Committee. Then, as in the immediate past, the Rules Committee was the means by which measures approved by other committees were brought to a vote. Cannon not only was chairman of the Rules Committee but he had the authority to appoint committee members.

AS SPEAKER, Cannon dominated the House. A member could not get the floor without Cannon's permission and Cannon saw to it that all committees were dominated by members whom he approved.

It is of immediate interest now to note that during that period of Cannon's dictatorship the argument for this tight system of control was that the Republican party had the right, since it had a mandate from the people, to facilitate legislation in harmony with its purpose and to frustrate legislation which was not in harmony with Republican policy.

That is what the liberals are saying now, about Democratic policy. But since Cannon had taken this vast responsibility, he was also made the target for violent criticism. President Taft's failures were blamed upon Cannon, and the expression "Czar Cannon" became anathema in large parts of the nation. In short, the czar became the goat.

In March, 1910 a few "progressive" Republicans joined with the Democratic members and engineered a revolution. Cannon was taken off the Rules Committee, and committee members were to be elected to the House.

The Rules Committee was "enlarged" (packed), just as it was last week. Cannon was speaker until the end of the session but since the Democrats won the House in 1910, a Democratic speaker succeeded him in 1911.

THE SOBER JUDGMENT of a great historian, Charles A. Beard, has been that the change made no real difference in the management of business. For the House, because of its size, must have order in handling legislation. Cannon, just as has been the case with Chairman Howard Smith, was merely the emblem of lost causes and the bete noir of disgruntled members.

The lesson Rayburn should learn from the Cannon history is that now that he has ascended to the throne from which Cannon was pushed in 1910, he, too, will be the symbol of reaction if all that an energetic president and his merry men want passed is not passed as they dictate.

It will be a pity if the amiable "Mr. Sam," who has gotten along so well by being friends with everyone over all these many years, should become the target of attack by both unhappy liberals and the solid conservatives who voted against the Rules Committee enlargement.

Rayburn, knowing the Cannon history, "asked for it." He has already designated the new members of the Rules Committee, and is pledged to put through the President's program. If that program is not passed, it will be Rayburn who will be the "goat" of the New Frontier.

Current earnings reports for 1960 are well scrambled. Industries trailing their 1959 earnings, on the basis of reports so far, include: Aircraft, with some companies operating at a loss; railroads running 25 per cent behind 1959; metalworking off 31 per cent; machinery and tools 30 per cent down; electrical equipment and appliance firms as a whole off 17, glass 15, rubber 14, cement 14, textiles 14, building materials 10, drugs 8, paper 5 and chemicals 4 per cent.

Against these figures are some record highs, such as American Telephone & Telegraph and International Business Machines, and most of the giant banks.

Steel companies did better in 1960, largely because of the 1959 strike. And so did nonferrous mining and processing companies, for the same reason. Oil companies are reporting profits up 9 per cent; coal up 5, retail firms up 5, motors up 3, and food companies up 3. Tobacco companies are ahead, despite the Cuban losses of some of them.

And the utilities managed to keep about their usual gain, up 8 per cent in 1960 despite slowdowns of some companies in hard hit industrial areas.

Early guesses on what the current first quarter will show are equally mixed. But for industry as a whole the prospects are for about the same earnings as in the final months of 1960, although well below the record profits scored in the first quarter of last year.

New 'Thorn' In House

By JAY G. HAYDEN

Powell Replaces Smith as "Chief Ogre"

A new congressman is replacing Howard Smith, D-Va., as "chief ogre" of the House education committee. He is Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, the New York Democrat from Harlem. With Reps. William Dawson of Chicago and Charles Diggs of Detroit, he is one of the three Negro members of Congress.

The vital point at the moment is that, as chairman-designate of the important committee on education and labor, Mr. Powell has delivered a ukase certain to kill off federal aid to education, Kennedy-style. This is the same measure that helped get Congressman Smith into so much trouble.

In the abbreviated session following presidential nominations last summer the House Rules Committee, by a vote of 5 to 7, pigeon-holed a Senate bill proposing the expenditure of $1 billion in grants to states for educational aid.

The states could decide whether the aid would be for school construction or teacher salaries. The House Committee on Education and Labor reduced the ante to $1.3 billion, confined to school construction.

SMITH'S COMMITTEE squashed the whole enterprise, reportedly in fear that if the House bill was passed and sent to a conference committee of the two houses, election year pressure would induce acceptance of the more expensive Senate measure.

Such was the background of a declaration by Rep. Powell last week that he would move again, as he has before, to bar federal financial aid to any school discriminating against Negroes. If Congress fails to support him this time, Powell suggested that this ban against discrimination would be imposed by "executive order of the White House."

No authority in Washington has been found willing to declare that President Kennedy holds the power to grant financial aid to schools and much less lay down terms for its expenditure, without specific authorization by Congress. But it is clearly apparent that if Mr. Powell, from the eminence of his chairmanship, inserts the rule of "no racial discrimination" in any educational aid bill passing his scrutiny that bill will not be adopted by Congress.

That conclusion is based on repeated instances when Southern Democrats, committed to school segregation, and members from North and West who were opposed to any kind of federal aid, combined to defeat every bill containing the Powell antidiscrimination amendment.

THE PRONOUNCEMENT by Mr. Powell was more significant in that it followed reading of a telegram praising him to the skies from President Kennedy. It was made in the presence of two new Democratic Cabinet members, Abraham A. Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare and Arthur J. Goldberg, secretary of labor.

President Kennedy wired: "I am happy to send my warm regards to Congressman Powell. Adam and I have worked together and campaigned together since we entered Congress in 1947."

"Adam has had many careers but none more challenging than his new role as chairman of the House Labor and Education Committee. There he will play an important part in carrying through the program of the new administration."

"I know he will succeed in this as he has succeeded in so many of his past efforts to protect and advance the human and civil rights of all Americans."

Mr. Ribicoff told the audience that President Kennedy had told him "to make sure I extend his personal best wishes to Adam and all of his friends."

Mr. Goldberg said he had started recruiting in Negro schools and colleges to bring more Negroes into the Labor Department.

Notably absent from the big dinner in honor of Mr. Powell was George Meany, head of the AFL-CIO who had opposed the Harlem representative's rise to the committee chairmanship in the grounds of his stirring up of racism, his absenteeism and his voting record in general.

Mayor Wagner did not attend although he was listed as honorary chairman of the dinner committee. Mayor Wagner and Rep. Powell are strongly at odds over selection of a president of Manhattan Borough to succeed Hulan Jack, a Harlem Negro displaced because of his criminal conviction for public fraud.

Better Marriages

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK

By 1975 marriage will emerge like a butterfly from its cocoon of outmoded traditions with a brand new look and a new role in American life.

And — for those who are emotionally mature — the new concept will bring the marital bliss which the world has long idealized but rarely attained.

Dr. Charles F. Mayer, nationally known divorce lawyer turned marriage counselor, sees this rosy future.

"Too many people are trying to impose Nineteenth Century concepts of marriage that are completely alien to present day life and problems."

The man who builds a doctorate in both law and psychology has reached these conclusions after 30 years of "freeing so-called incompatible couples"; returning to college for postgraduate work in psychology and marriage counseling; a decade of patching together broken hearts.

TRACING THE HISTORY of marriage, he points out "The first marriages were simply marriage by capture — the caveman would conk a likely female on the head and drag her home to be his mate. Then came marriage by purchase and later marriages arranged by families. It was not until the Ninth or Tenth century that mutual love became the principal factor."

"Many of the prevailing concepts of marriage today are really those of our parents and grandparents — the Nineteenth Century marriage where the family was largely rural, the father was the provider and patriarch, and the wife had the subordinate role and endless, menial domestic duties."

Such a concept doesn't fit modern urban life where a wife has new independence and possibly a job and a husband is expected to do his half of the housework. The resultant turmoil, Dr. Mayer says, has in many cases reversed roles. The wife becomes masculine and domineering and the husband feminine and submissive.

MARRIAGE, based on the already outmoded beliefs in masculine domination, conjugal rights and wifely duties, will disappear," Dr. Mayer believes "and in its place, love and dignity of each partner will be reestablished as the basis for marriage."

"Companionship will be the keynote. Husband and wives will be able to clearly reaffirm the real enduring values — the worth of the human personality, the dignity of man and woman and child—the basic goals of human living, long frustrated by incongruous traditions."

Among the factors which Dr. Mayer says will help bring this about are:

A better understanding of oneself. More people will try to understand their motivations, fears and frustrations and attain emotional maturity.

Less domestic drudgery. Greater use of prepared foods and more labor-saving devices and, easier-to-maintain homes will reduce domestic duties.

Education in infantile concepts of romantic love will give way to a more intelligent choice of one's mate as well as prepare young people for the realities of married life.

Better sex education. In place of feelings of anxiety and guilt children will receive a wholesome understanding of sex which will help them to grow up to be able to give and receive love as mature adults.

Increased marriage counseling. In addition to more widespread private help by qualified counselors, many divorce courts will establish counseling service.

PROMISE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Saxons had a word for Spring. It was Lencten, shortened, in time, to Lent.

So the name Lent was given to that springtime period of 40 fast days from Ash Wednesday until Easter.

Lent came to mean a time of penitence. And it is. But it is also a time of preparation, and of promise. For because Lent means Spring, it heralds good things to come. It forecasts the glorious message of Easter. It is the dawn of the most beautiful season of the year.

The bare branches of these trees will burst into bud and leaf with the touch of Spring. Our thoughts during Lent, our personal preparations, also will reach fruition when the 40 days are through.

Lent is the time for prayer and self-examination. Make this Lenten season really mean something by seeking help and guidance at your church services.

Salem Explodes in Second Half to Rip Boardman 61-47

Hot-Shooting Spartans Hold Lead Throughout First Two Quarters

Don Davidson, Bob Eskay Open Up With Sudden Scoring Barrage

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Coach Darl Dolan's underdog Boardman cage squad refused to roll over and play dead for the first two quarters, but Ohio's 16th ranked Spartans exploded in the second half to chalk up a 61-47 victory Friday night over the Spartans in the Salem Senior High gym.

The win for Salem was its 13th in 16 games while Boardman dropped its 13th tilt in 16 outings.

Boardman didn't act the part of a team with 12 losses and only three wins. Hitting a red hot 61.9 per cent of their shots from the floor, the Spartans had the Quakers down 29-25 at halftime.

The Quakers were cold in the first quarter. They missed their first 11 shots from the floor and didn't register a field goal until sophomore Bill Beery rebounded Don Davidson's missed shot and put the ball in the hoop with 1:08 left in the first quarter. That goal cut Boardman's lead to 12-5.

The Spartans had taken a 6-0 lead before junior Bob Eskay sank a pair of fouls to put Salem on the scoreboard for the first time. By then 4:15 had elapsed.

ANOTHER BASKET off a rebound by Beery accounted for Salem's only other goal in the quarter as Boardman doubled the Quakers' first period output, 14-7.

Don Davidson, who missed his first five shots from the floor, and Bob Eskay, who misfired on his first seven attempts, started to find the range in the second quarter. Each flipped in eight points in that canto to narrow the Spartans' lead at halftime to 29-25.

All five Boardman starters were sharp in the first half. They hit 7 of 11 shots in the initial quarter and 6 of 10 in the second. Salem was 2 for 16 in the first period and 7 for 14 in the second.

Boardman took its time, calmly working the ball around like seasoned veterans in the first half. They didn't waste many shots. The third quarter started out the same way with Boardman moving on top, 33-27, in the first two and a half minutes.

Then the Quakers smashed 'em.

JUNIOR GARY JEFFRIES entered the Salem lineup at a guard position and immediately the Quakers started rolling. Eskay hit a jumper and Jeffries put in a lay-up to cut Boardman's margin to 31-33 with 5:15 left in the third quarter.

Eskay's foul shot made it 32-33 and then junior Ted Thorne dropped in a foul to deadlock the game at 33-33 with 3:44 left in the quarter.

Chuck Port got Boardman back in the lead with a foul shot, but Eskay put in a short jumper, then a long one a few seconds later to put Salem in front to stay.

Just as Boardman couldn't do anything wrong in the first half, the Spartans suddenly couldn't do anything right. They had a tough time getting shots as the Quakers either took the ball away from them or the Spartans found other ways of losing it.

Salem led 44-37 at the three-quarter mark. Four straight baskets by Don Davidson in the first two minutes of the fourth quarter ran the score quickly to 52-38. "Big D" hit one from outside, then drove for another. Jeffries stole the ball away from a Spartan and gave it to Davidson for another easy two-pointer. Another feed allowed the 6-5 Davidson to sink his fourth basket of the period.

LATER IN THE QUARTER, "Big D" took a nice pass from Ted Thorne and pumped the ball through the hoop for his fifth goal in the first four minutes of the fourth quarter.

With 3:32 left in the game and Salem rapidly pulling away with a 56-40 lead, Quaker Coach John Cabas sent in a whole new team to finish the contest.

Davidson, who after missing his first five shots hit 10 of his last 16, wound up with high point honors for Salem. The all-star had 20 points, all on goals. He didn't get a shot from the foul line.

Bob Eskay, who fortunately for the Quakers didn't quit shooting after a bad start, closed with 17 points, after missing his first seven shots. Eskay pumped in six straight goals. He also had a perfect five for five from the foul line.

The other Quaker in double figures was Beery. The classy sophomore tallied 11 points and led the Quakers in rebounds with nine.

The only man scoring in double figures for Boardman was Ted Cackowsky, 6-3 senior, who had 13 markers.

IN FINAL SHOOTING percentages, Salem hit 22 of 66 shots from the field for 33.3 per cent while the Spartans made 19 of only 33 shots for a fine 57.6 per cent. Boardman shot only 12 times from the floor in the second half. From the foul line, Salem was a very hot 17 for 21 and Boardman was 9 for 15.

Boardman's popular coach, Darl Dolan, was happy to see his boys stay with the highly rated Quakers as long as they did. "I knew they would play good ball because they always like to get 'up' for Salem," he remarked.

"We don't have much of a record but we lost our last four games by just one point," the Spartan coach pointed out.

"As you could see tonight, we don't have any depth."

"That Salem team is something. They remind me of Ohio State. You think you are staying with them when all of a sudden you look at the scoreboard and find yourself out of the game."

COACH DOLAN was discussing the coming Sectional Tournament at Struthers and Youngstown when somebody mentioned that they thought that Struthers could probably handle Salem.

The Boardman mentor said he is not sure that he would go along with that observation. "Struthers is big though," Coach Dolan commented. "They have tall boys like Salem and they also weigh about twice as much."

Coach Dolan said he would like to see Struthers play its Sectional Tournament games at Youngstown and have Youngstown South High play at Struthers.

Drawings for both of these tournaments will be made Monday night in Youngstown. The Salem Quakers have just two more regular season games remaining. They entertain Youngstown East on Tuesday, then close next Friday with a big game against the defending Ohio Class AA champions, Dayton Roosevelt.

Hanna, a 5-10 junior guard, banged home 17 points in the first half but he didn't get much help. The Golden Eagles collected only two other points in the first 16 minutes of play as Carrollton jumped off to a 31-19 lead by halftime.

United shot a very cold 19 per cent from the field in the first half. The third quarter was a different story as the Eagles outscored their foe, 20-11, and cut Carrollton's advantage to 42-39. The teams then fought on almost even terms in the final canto.

Clippers Rally in Second Half

Columbiana Upsets Minerva 61-57 in Tri-County Battle

The Columbiana Clippers spurred in the last half to overcome the Minerva Lions 61-57 Friday night in a thriller on the winners' court.

The defeat for defending champion Minerva dropped the Lions into a first place tie with East Palestine in the Tri-County League. Minerva has a 9-2 league record and is 12-3 for the season.

Columbiana copped its seventh league victory, compared to four losses. Minerva had edged the Clippers, 69-65, earlier in the season on the Lions' home court. Columbiana's season record now reads 10-5.

THE LIONS JUMPED off to a 14-11 first-period lead, and padded their margin by two points to 30-25 by intermission.

In the next stanza the Clippers tallied 19 points to 12 for Minerva to force ahead 44-42.

The Clippers were paced by Gary Perkins who netted 14 points. Dale Murphy, Paul Murphy and Don Culp each added 13 to Columbiana's count. The season's leading scorer for the Clippers, Rich Harrold, was held to eight points.

Minerva's Don Miller boosted his season total to 285 by racking up 22 points last night. Gary Nigro and Dick Houze tallied 12 apiece.

THE TURNING POINT in the game came in the third period when Miller suffered a slight sprain of his ankle and was taken out of the contest. He returned shortly afterward, but by then the Clippers had taken a lead which they never relinquished.

The Minerva Jayvees won the preliminary encounter 47-13 in overtime.

Bulldogs Gain 1st Place Tie

East Palestine Whips Louisville, 75-62

East Palestine experienced little trouble in beating Louisville 75-62 Friday night at Louisville. The victory, coupled with Columbiana's win over Minerva, enabled the Bulldogs to move into a tie with the Lions for the Tri-County league lead.

Minerva and East Palestine both have 9-2 league records.

The Bulldogs leaped to a 20-3 lead in the first quarter last night when the Leopards' only scoring came on three fouls. After a 42-22 halftime deficit, Louisville seemed to find itself. The Leopards outscored East Palestine in the fourth period when the Bulldog subs were in but it was too late.

Big Jim Hartshorn dumped in 14 field goals for East Palestine for 28 points, with able assistance from Ron Watt and Jim McCloskey, with 15 and 12 respectively. Miller and Bardash set the pace for Louisville.

It was Palestine's second victory of the season over Louisville.

The red hot Bulldogs hit 55 per cent on their field goal tries and 65 per cent from the foul stripe.

The Palestine Reserves won 39 to 33.

The score at the intermission was 28-12 and at the three-quarter mark, 46-21.

High-scoring Bill Zimmer paced the winners with 20 markers. Tim Walter added 12 to the victors' total.

Craig Pannier, with six, was high for the hapless Blue Devils.

The victory gives the Bulldogs a 9-6 season record, 7-4 in league competition.

Arnold Palmer Moves Up in Phoenix Open
By CARL BELL
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A part-time tournament pro entered the third round of the $30,000 Phoenix Open today with a two-stroke lead and a most disturbing thought: the great Arnold Palmer was on the move.

Henry Williams Jr., who spends most of his time teaching club members at Fleetwood, Pa., how to play golf, was the front runner at the halfway mark of the 72-hole birdie battle after a course record seven-under-par 63 Friday.

Young Dave Marr, from Houston, Tex., and Phoenix, was right behind at 133. But it was an excellent guess that, next to the course itself, the big worry of among the 71 pros surviving the 36-hole cut was Palmer.

The muscular 1960 golfer of the year caught fire early in playing what he describes as "my best golf this year" in the second round. After hooking his second shot into a lake for a double bogie six on the first hole Friday, he shot nothing but pars and birdies to come in with a five-under-par 65. This tied him with Don January at 134, three strokes off the pace.

The power hitter who last year won an official $75,262, more than any other golfer ever earned in a single season, birdied the last four holes in a row.

Although he won at San Diego and finished among the top five in three of five tournaments this year, Palmer has said his many public appearances to receive awards and speak at banquets have hampered his game.

"But now I've had a couple of weeks rest from the tea circuit," he said after Friday's round, "and I feel great."

Bill Collins Cards 66
Big Bill Collins, who shared the first-round lead with Marr and Mason Rudolph at 66, came in with a 69 for 135 and a tie with defending champion Jack Fleck. Julius Boros, Johnny Pott and Jim Ferrier.

Rudolph had an even par 70 and still was within reach at 136.

This year's leading money winner with nearly $13,000 in just over one month, South Africa's Gary Player was in a group of 10 tied at 139.

Bob Rosburg, second in tournament earnings with $9,500, suffered his second successive 73 and failed to qualify for the final two rounds.

I-M, Salem Auto Clash in Slo-Break
Industrial Mining and Salem Auto will battle it out for first place Thursday in the Slo-Break basketball league at the Memorial Building.

The two teams are tied for the top spot with a second round record of 2-1.

Salem Auto held the lead until this week when Norm Smith of Hunt's Independent tossed in 16 points to pace his team to a 31-25 upset victory. It was Hunt's first victory of the round and only their second of the season.

In the other game this week, a 17-point scoring effort by Phil Wenner led Industrial Mining to a 36-28 win over Sekely Jaycees.

Bill Baker and Don Brame each had 10 points for the losers.

Quakers Roll Up 65-46 Decision

Salem High Reserves Make Boardman 15th Cage Victim

The Salem Reserves racked up their 15th victory in 16 games as they snowed under the Boardman Jaycees, 65-46, Friday night in the Salem Senior High gym.

Sophomore guard Rick Platt came off the bench to lead the Quakers with 12 points. Juniors Gary Jeffries and Jerry Wahn each contributed 11 markers to Salem's well-balanced attack.

IN ALL, nine Quakers broke into the scoring column. One of the mainstays on the reserve squad, Allen Ewing, was held out of last night's action to keep the number of quarters he plays in varsity and reserve games within the legal limits.

The tall Boardman team had three men score in double digits. Getz hooped 14 markers, Conti added 12 and Brenner chipped in with 10.

Although the Quakers had trouble finding the basket early in the game, they soon warmed up to the occasion and steamed off to a 15-0 first quarter lead, chiefly on the shooting of Jeffries and sophomore Dave Capel.

JEFFRIES, Sam Watson, Jerry Wahn and Platt all hit at least four points in the second canto as Salem piled up a 38-15 lead by intermission. At the close of the third quarter, Salem's margin was 53-27.

The Quaker subs played most of the fourth quarter. The action got a little wild but the entertainment value was even higher than the first three periods, according to the cheers of the crowd.

Plays At Michigan State
Ohio State Shoots for 23rd Straight Win Tonight

The Big Bucks of Ohio State, sharpening up for their two toughest tests of the regular season, aim for their 23rd straight victory tonight on a Saturday college key conference and independent matches.

While their current chief Big Ten challengers — scholastically riddled Iowa, plays at Indiana, the Buckeyes of Fred Taylor play at East Lansing against a Michigan State team that has won only one of seven conference games and has an over-all 5-12 record.

Although any road game has a way of being hazardous, this one and Ohio State's home game with Northwestern Monday figure to be little more than sharpeners for the Bucks' game at Iowa Feb. 18 and at Indiana Feb. 20.

Defending NCAA champion Ohio State has won 7 straight Big Ten games this season and 17 games over-all to go with triumphs in the last 5 games last year in the march to the national title. Iowa, ninth-ranked nationally with its full team intact, built up a 4-1 Big Ten slate before announcement earlier this week that four of its five regulars were scholastically ineligible.

league, Walter Reuther, head of the Auto Workers Union, Reuther was among the union and auto industry figures with whom Kennedy's unemployment area emissary was to meet here today.

Reuther told a congressional committee in Washington Thursday he doubted that Kennedy's economic aid program goes far enough and that a Kennedy proposal to give business tax incentives was especially unnecessary and unwise.

Goldberg, asked at Lansing, Mich., Friday night about Reuther's position on the Kennedy tax proposal, replied with a smile that "I agree with my President (Kennedy) and, in this case, not with (union) President Reuther."

Reuther questioned whether tax incentives are needed to build new plants when so many are idled now. Goldberg told a Gary, Ind., audience that tax adjustments to let business modernize and rebuild plants and at the same time discourage location of plants abroad would be beneficial.

"I do not share the doubts of some labor leaders about the wisdom of this administration policy," Goldberg said.

But he said comment on Kennedy's plans from any source is a "healthy" thing.

In Michigan, Goldberg found economic conditions probably worse than any he has seen on his tour. There are 320,000 unemployed in the state, or 11.2 per cent of the work force, including 165,000 idled in the auto capital of Detroit.

Katanga

The Soviet Union and 10 other pro-Lumumba U.N. members called on Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld to determine if Lumumba really did escape or if he is dead.

There has been no evidence to substantiate the widespread rumors that the escape was manufactured.

Katanga officials said the fugitives probably are trying to reach the Bukama area controlled by Lumumbists, 200 miles north, a distance men on foot could cover in about a week.

Alexander Quaison Sackey of Ghana, member of a U. N. commission attempting to bring together the Congo's warring political factions, said bluntly in Leopoldville: "I think this is a cover-up story and that he probably has been shot."

Sackey, whose government supports Lumumba, added: "If Lumumba is dead, there will be no peace in the Congo for 20 years."

Some diplomats and officials close to the Congolese government privately expressed the belief Lumumba has been dead for days. One Western diplomat said the Katanga government's release of seemingly authentic information on the escape and search could be part of an elaborate cover story.

Yugoslavia's official Communist party newspaper, Borba of Belgrade, said in a Leopoldville dispatch the fugitives safely reached Bukava, capital of Kivu Province. Bukava is about 550 miles northeast of the farmhouse prison—a long, rigorous journey through the Congo backlands.

U. N. headquarters in Leopoldville said it was attempting to learn from its Katanga-based officials just what had happened to Lumumba.

"We have no reason to suppose he is dead," a U. N. spokesman said, "but neither are we able to give any assurance that he is still alive."

Lumumba's death almost certainly would goad his supporters into a frenzy of violence in Oriental and Kivu provinces, which they control, and Western diplomats feared possible vengeance against the white population.
